Editorial

Well folks, another busy month has flown by! There have been some notable highlights: The Girls' Brigade Parade at Trinity (wonderful quiltwork girls! And very, very well done Suzanne - 25 years of service!); The beginning of winter services in the Trinity Chapel; all of our community facing ministries like Eat Well, Rhythm Kids, Yoga for Seniors, and another successful winter lunch; and a fascinating sermon series on being "People of this Place".

A big thank you to everyone who has contributed so much over this short time.

Recently Presbyterian Women Aotearoa New Zealand have decided to wind up their organization after well over 100 years of serving the church. Over the next month or two in the Link we will celebrate the life and work of women in our Church, within PWANZ and beyond.

We have also had some challenging decisions to make. I'd like to once again express our thanks to Ken Falconer who guided us through a very complex process, and to Roger Carter who has made sure that our insurance valuations are relevant and up to date.

By the time you read this, we will have enjoyed the moderator's visit, and welcomed Brent and Catherine home after their wonderful experience in the UK. Welcome back guys! We've missed you and we're glad that you've had such a wonderful experience.

Next Saturday we will be having a Matariki celebration, inviting community families for a fish & chip tea at the Trinity Community Centre.

There is a lot going on in our lives!

In the midst of our busy-ness there are often reminders that we couldn't do any of this in our own strength - we rely fully on the goodness and generosity of God who is at work in our lives. So if you're having a challenging time, then I encourage you to seek God's goodness and God's peace in the midst of it all.

July Parish Council Report

We started the meeting with coffee and cake to welcome Brent back from his study leave. Brent shared with us some of the highlights of his time away.

Murray led our devotions. He read Psalm 121 “I lift up my eyes to the mountains—where does my help come from? My help comes from the LORD, the Maker of heaven and earth.”

We shared together times when we have been on mountains and other places that feel close to heaven, where we have experienced the Lord.

The handrails have now been installed at St Stephens and are being put to good use. The handrails for Trinity are in progress.

The silver birch trees in front of St Stephens have been inspected by several arborists. They all confirmed that they are in poor health and advised that they be removed. Quotes for the work are being considered. This will align with the plans to refresh the St Stephens frontage.

We happily agreed to commission Janie Hart as a mission enabler, joining Joy Elliot and Helen Carter. We look forward to Janie’s ideas and contributions to this very important work.

The congregational meeting to approve our insurance renewal was held on the 25th June. A good discussion was held, and the insurance was approved.

The final Reviewed Accounts and Performance Report for 2022 were presented by Judith to Parish Council and approved. A congregational meeting to discuss and approve the 2023-24 budget will be held at St Stephens on 27th August following worship.

The meeting was closed with the Grace.

SNIPPETS from the Mission Group Meeting

Recently the Mission Group combined with those involved with Eatwell for an extraordinary meeting to discuss Eatwell's new fruit and vegetables suppliers along with our finances. As you are aware fruit and vegetable prices have risen considerably recently making a few challenges for us. Donations of any surplus fruit and vegetables are always welcome to add a little more variety.

Our Winter Knitting Project has been truly amazing this year with such a lovely selection of little woollen garments for our under fives. We have endeavoured to get these knitted garments away to their destinations as soon as possible, so the children can have the benefit from the extra warmth while the weather is still cold. It is planned for the Winter Knitting Project to finish at the end of July. If your knitting is not finished by that date, just put the garment in the food bank basket (for Family Works) when it is complete.

Buy and Supply will be up and running again in the Spring. It will start on the first Sunday in October and run for six weeks raising money for Riding for the Disabled.

Cooking lessons in Trinity kitchen will be starting up again at the end of July. These weekly sessions will be sponsored by Family Works.

Bucket Mission Topics

Radio Rhema - July, (this was held recently and $325.60 was raised)

CWS - Food for Life - August,

Cyclone Relief - Vanuatu - September

Our new public holiday - Matariki will be celebrated at Trinity Community Centre on Saturday 15th. July (5pm to 7pm) for the Rhythm Kids families and others, with a B.Y.O. fish and chip tea followed by lights, crafts, games and story telling."

Elaine

How are you celebrating Matariki, which falls this year on 14 July?

Matariki opens up so many possibilities for reflection and celebration. In its literal meaning there is the idea of divine encounter. And this divine encounter is linked to harvest time, giving thanks for that which has been, and hopes for that which is to come. The harvest element leads naturally into enjoying together good food, the fruits of the harvest, a feast!

I engaged in a conversation with a Matariki skeptic this week. It turns out he knew nothing about the meaning behind Marariki. As I explained the themes of New Year, harvest, and of remembering, celebrating, and visioning to him, he was converted! He agreed that these are ideas that are accessible to all people of all cultures and beliefs. That is certainly true of we Presbyterians with our Christian culture and heritage. Remembrance, thankfulness for what we have right now, and a hopeful attitude towards the future are core values of us. A text that resonates with me around these things is Isaiah 51:

Look to the rock from which you were cut and to the quarry from which you were hewn;
2 look to Abraham, your father,
and to Sarah, who gave you birth ...

3 The LORD will surely comfort Zion
and will look with compassion on all her ruins;
he will make her deserts like Eden,
her wastelands like the garden of the LORD.
Joy and gladness will be found in her, thanksgiving and the sound of singing.

One of the lovely things about Matariki is the variations of meaning of its observance that exist within Māoridom that seems to give permission for a wide range of ways to observe this time of year. And that is exactly what I am seeing rise-up around the churches in our country. Christian communities are asking great questions about how Matariki connects with our scriptural heritage, our own traditions. and our own celebrations. As a result, in churches up and down the country, creative plans are afoot. A few examples that I will have the privilege to participate in are:

On 9 July I am preaching in the Timaru parish as part of a series called People of this Place that links into Matariki themes.

And then the following week, I will join really interesting Matariki celebrations on the West Coast. On the Friday evening there will be a Puanga-Matariki celebration at Moana, open to the whole community around a shared meal and some star gazing. On the Saturday in Greymouth, there will be a combined parish planning day around the Matariki themes of remembering where we have come from, celebrating where we are at, and visioning for the future. On the Sunday, the various congregations will worship God with thankfulness for this past, present and future.

May God be with you and your community as you do Matariki together this year.

News from abroad

6 July 2023

As I write this Catherine and I have returned home safely and are acclimatising to very chilly and frosty mornings. We arrived home to flowers, a care parcel of food and a card with welcome home wishes. That was so lovely and thankyou to all who contributed.

Our time at Westminster concluded with attending the end of year Valedictory dinner and in true kiwi style the 6 of us sang a waiata (Wairua Tapu) which was very well received. Through this we expressed our gratitude to our generous hosts and brought some music to the occasion.

We then had a 4 day excursion to Rome and Pompeii which was fascinating. While in Rome we went to the Colosseum, Palatine hill and Vatican, all must see sights. I think the highlight was seeing the Sistine Chapel and just spending some time looking at the painted ceiling and contemplating the biblical scenes depicted. It was very crowded- we felt a bit like cattle being herded through but well worth it. Equally fascinating was Pompeii which was buried in volcanic ash in 79 AD and is now a well preserved site showing how life was lived in ancient times. Our time in Italy was spent in 30+ degree heat so my advice if you are going there is wait until winter!

From there we left England for Canada to visit our niece, Samantha who lives in the university town of Guelph (2 hours west of Toronto). While we were only there for a couple of days we were impressed with the friendliness of the locals we met and the beauty of a nearby nature reserve.

Next was our final stop in Los Angeles and San Diego visiting another cousin of Catherine's. We had a night in Hollywood which sounds glamorous but actually had a disturbing number of homeless people living on the street outside our hotel.

The Colosseum, Rome

A tour guide told us there were 60,000 homeless people in LA, many of whom have drug and mental health problems. Away from this reality we enjoyed a very interesting tour of Warner Bros studios and getting a glimpse of how movies are made. We also took a stroll up to the fabulous Griffith Observatory which was quite a climb but well worth it for the view. Another highlight was driving around in a convertible Mini ( a great way to get a tan) and trying Mexican food.

Griffith Observatory, LA

We thoroughly enjoyed our time away with so many wonderful experiences, meeting interesting people and living a carefree life for a time. But, as they say, there is no place like home and we are truly grateful to be back where we belong, among family and friends.

High tea at the Ritz for my Birthday.

Meals on Wheels

Wensley Ashwell

When Mrs Jean Petrie and later Mrs Helen McDougal gave up organizing the Meals on Wheels roster (because of their ill health) I took over for some years in the late 80's early 90's.

Chalmers duty month was June and we shared it with the Methodists. There were 12 zones to cover all over Timaru and in the early days we collected the meals from Elloughton, Talbot and the Public Hospital. This was quite good, as one could choose which area one wanted to deliver in.

One round I was with Miss Nancy Budd and it was Mid Year Christmas Meal; We had the old metal containers to carry as well as thermoses containing gravy, Custard and Ice cream - Quite Challenging.

We were all a lot younger and more agile then and people were all so happy to be involved.

Cheese-roll Fund raiser

We had a very successful fund raiser. A high number of helpers came from our churches. Thanks to all of them. Your help is very much appreciated. Here are the numbers for the Presbyterian Church:

274 doz cheese-rolls and a revenue of $ 1 841.00

We also got an extra order from Johnny Mason and his firm about 174 doz cheese-rolls with a revenue of $ 1 018.00

There were also many orders of other churches, but our churches were the best customer.

The money raised will go for Bibles in Turkey and Iraq.

Women in the Life of the Church

The APW (Association of Presbyterian Women) is a combination of women's groups, the strongest of which was the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Union (PWMU) which began at the turn of the 20th century. However the APW origins go back to the 1850's when Mrs Jane Bannerman formed a missionary group in her minister husband's large parish in the south of the south island. By the 1890's there were many such groups, some calling themselves the PWMU, inspired by those that were successfully operating in Victoria Australia. The onset of the Great Depression challenged the PWMU to new areas of service and by 1939 there were 431 branches and 9700 members now working to raise money for their own missionaries. Overseas mission expanded into areas of health and education enabling indigenous people to reach their own levels of independence. By the mid 1950's PWMU began to realise an increasing need for mission work in their own parishes.

In 1943 the Presbyterian Women's Fellowship (PWF) was founded and became an alternative group. In 1963 the PWF and PWMU merged to include all the women of the church in one group which became the APW, whose mission was to "unite the women of the church in prayer, study, fellowship and service..... further work of the church..... and encourage an interest in world wide evangelism". In 2012 the name was changed to PWANZ, to encourage younger women to be involved in the aims of the organisation, with a focus on supporting women throughout the church.

Looking back into the archives has revealed the innumerable projects which were organised and run by the women of the church, supported by the men. These include the Garden Circle which provided flowers for the churches, weddings and funerals. There were "Young Marrieds" groups who worked in the kitchens providing food when required. Morning groups which supported young mothers and provided a crèche ( often in the manse), lunch groups, afternoon groups( providing visiting service to Timaru Hospital, town and country folk, retirement homes), and evening groups. Shop days and garage sales were held to raise funds, some of which were donated to overseas projects. The members visited the North Street Presbyterian Children's Home where they would do sewing, mending and darning of the children's clothes. Meals on Wheels were delivered, each of the parishes having their own month on a roster system. The ladies provided leaders for the Girls Brigade, which continues to this day. Church cleaning and spring cleaning was done by the women of the parishes. They also organised and helped with annual functions such as the Flower Shows, annual Fairs, (which included catering), and choirs.

One of the APW groups conducted a service entitled "Hands" which included a display of different craftwork all made by the members. It was displayed on the steps in the church and was most effective.

Weekly soup and a bread roll was a feature in winter which was well supported. Car boot sales and New Year sales in the camping ground proved very successful. In the past the church sponsored refugees, helped them settle into their new country. The church women would mind children, help with English lessons and teaching. The women organised and ran Sunday School, House groups (at church and in private houses) for support of the ministers and bible study. The Big Buddies programme was for 2 two hours every week to provide support for children and families, often one parent families. The kids loved to help, and baking was popular, which they would take home, also farming was very popular.

The women of the church provided help in the Goodwill shop, as long as it lasted.

They also picked beans, collected manure from farm sheds, preserved fruit and ran a Play Centre, which was a part of the NZ Playcentre Association. The church gardens are kept beautiful by the women of the parish. Winter knitting has always been well supported by the women in the parish and is donated mainly to Family Works South Canterbury, with a some (hats and slippers) going to Hanan and Kowhai Kindergartens.

Currently the Presbyterian Women's Lunch Group meets monthly at St Stephens. They were affiliated to the APW, but in December of 2020 a meeting was held to discuss the future direction of the group. At that time it was decided to close the bank account as there were few transactions, and a float to be kept by the treasurer.

The APW raised their subscription to $20 per person (100% increase) and in February 2021 the group decided not to renew their subscription as it was felt that the work head office was doing didn't really relate to the South Island so the word "Association" was removed and the members preferred to support the local projects rather than the nationwide requests. Some APW Members conducted a service (in 1981) which was a play-reading a entitled "Hands" which included a display of many different crafts that the members had made. An display also was set going out of a steel table. Jane Clifton offered to do a painting of the theme and he decided it would be his hands he painted, which we were delighted to accept (original Clifton paid for it framed) members continue to subscribe to the APW individually. Each meeting has a guest speaker and the talks are enlightening and entertaining. There is always a sales table and monies raised have been donated locally and include Presbyterian Social Services Family Works for the food bank and grandparents raising grandchildren (for Christmas treats), St John to assist with transport between Christchurch and Timaru. At this time we would like to acknowledge the work of Alison Linscott over very many years as the representative to the APW at national level. Alison attended all annual general meetings, gave detailed reports of each meeting, and worked tirelessly during her many years of service to the association. Other groups the women of the parish organise and run include Rhythm Kids, a fun programme of singing, dancing, stories, morning tea and play for the under fives, Eatwell fruit and Vegetable Co-op, providing fresh fruit and veges every week to encourage families into healthy eating patterns, Yoga for Seniors on Chairs, Buy and Supply ( in the summer months), Reflection groups, winter knitting continues and has exploded, Jam Sessions for musicians, Nosh & Natter where we bring our own food and have a conversation together and Bucket Missions to raise funds for specific purposes.

SHARE THE GIFT OF GIVING THIS CHRISTMAS

THE FAMILY WORKS CHRISTMAS

Angel project will enable your staff/group or school to buy gifts/gift vouchers, experiences etc for a local family in need this Christmas. Many local families are really struggling and providing Christmas for their children seems so unattainable... just a dream—you can help their dreams come true.

HOW IT WORKS

Family Works will identify the families most in need in our community and will give you a profile of this family (e.g Mum & 3 kids, their ages and interests). You and your staff then shop for the family based on the profile (presents, Supermarket and petrol vouchers, warehouse vouchers, movie tickets, swim passes, edible treats, books, board games, puzzles). Family works will collect the gifts from you or you can drop off on designated delivery dates. These gifts will then be delivered to your family just before Christmas —anonymity is the key to this project and everyone's privacy is protected.

You can decide how this would work best for your business, group or school and how involved your staff/ group will become in the project. Support some of South Canterbury's most vulnerable families and become a Christmas Angel today.

We are taking registrations now for the Christmas Angel Project that supported 180 local families last year and with the cost of living crisis this will increase for 2023.

EXPERIENCE THE JOY OF GIVING

Christmas can be a joyous time, it can also be a time of extreme struggle and stress for some South Canterbury Families. With your help these families can have a magical Christmas.

LET'S CHANGE LIVES TOGETHER

SALE

Flower plants, vegetable plants,
All the usual stalls, and some surprises

Plant Sale coming up on the 16th September:

Do you have time to help with potting up plants for the Plant Sale? Can you help by growing or giving a plant to pot up?

Do you have any potting or seed mix to spare?

HOMEMADE BAKING & PRESERVES SALES TABLE:

Alongside the Annual Plant Sale, planned for Saturday 16 September 2023, we are again running the Baking and Preserves Sales Table. Given we are always amazed at the wide array of home baked goodies that are delivered for sale....we would love you to “tempt our tastebuds” again with your favourite homemade baking treats or preserves. Maybe you would prefer to donate some baking ingredients (butter/ sugar/fruit) and/or monetary donations for someone else to bake you a scrumptious treat? That would be much appreciated also. Please leave any ingredients/money at the Church Office, or in either College/Wai-iti Rd Church foyers (labelled “Baking Stall”) if possible before Sunday 3 September please.

THANK YOU SO MUCH for your support! Mmmmm.....can't wait to sample your goodies!

Contact Sandra Hetherington

(Ph. 6883619 evenings or leave a message) with any queries.

Plant Sale

Pots of a different kind

We are seeking suitable pots, such as old crockery pots or similar, suitable to grow succulents in. We feel that these would make attractive containers for the display of succulents.... These plants are very popular at this present time.

Also we will take any unwanted plants.

These can be left at St Stephens or Trinity....

Thank you
